

Paul David

At this time the harm to the environment caused by fracking is well documented. It is surprising that anyone would be considering the continuation of this type of fossil fuel extraction. Let's move forward with clean renewable energy rather than backward with unsafe, outdated, energy technology.