

Cathie Forman

There is more than enough evidence that fracking is a dangerous, toxic, harmful to humans procedure, used to extract natural gas. From Wyoming to West Virginia to Pennsylvania and everywhere else it's been used, there are higher rates of cancer, livestock deaths, contaminated wells and earthquakes. Natural gas has been extracted for more than 50 years. Not until fracking came along was there an outcry from citizens.

My commentary will not enlighten you. Your conscience and decision on who you represent, will be noted by the citizens of this Commonwealth.

If you continue to allow fracking you're supporting an industry's optimum profit. You are not supporting the health of our air, water, children and citizenry. This is what I thought your were a Commission for.