

Heather Bernhardt

The DRBC's past wisdom in banning fracking activities in the Delaware River Basin and also the DRBC's more recent proposed ban on fracking in the basin illustrates that the DRBC educatedly knows how harmful fracking activities and the byproducts and pollution generated by fracking would be to the watershed and the river. Please don't dilute your own commitment to protecting the Delaware River by allowing fracking wastewater to be stored, processed or discharged in the Delaware River Basin. You have access to so much data that shows what harm has already come to various waterways and other river basins in PA because of fracking activities. What is 100% certain is that, pardon the expression, "frack-cidents" happen.