

Mark van Rossen

It is a well established fact that hydro-fracking degrades water systems and introduces dangerous/carcinogenic materials into the environment. Fracking must be prohibited. It serves no purpose to maintain our dependence on fossil fuels. In the long run we may see the increased warming of our planet along with the resultant consequences of this warming including rising seas ecosystem collapse extinction and mass human migration. Please prohibit fracking in general but certainly prohibit this technique which is so detrimental to the environment in places that are of vital importance in regard to water supplies. Without water we have nothing!