

Karan Lockerby

We have done enough destruction to this planet we have towns and cities that can't even drink their own water without boiling it first fracking is not the answer and neither was Cole we need to go clean energy for this planet to get driving