

Nano Mardones

To endanger the source of clean water for millions of people for the sake of profits for the few, is immoral. This, in addition to the environmental damage this technique causes which adds to the harm to communities.