

ron gordon

I am completely opposed to any activities that would harm the Delaware river watershed. I will vote against any politician who allows hydraulic fracturing to take water from the river or dispose of contaminated water into the river. These companies are taking a valuable resource and leaving despoiled land in their wake. The profits go to the big companies and the environmental clean up is left to the taxpayers. It happened with coal and now it is being done with this new method of extraction.