

Karin Yomboro

Clean, fresh usable air and water are our most precious and life giving elements. Fracking destroys both of these and fracked water will never be usable water again! Our forests, rivers, and wild places can not be replaced once they're destroyed by fracking. And they will be if we do not look ahead to preserve our natural National resources and protect it for future generations. These resources are not just commodities to make a profit on, in the short run for a few individuals. It belongs to the American people. Fracking and dumping toxic wastes must end, and will set a precedent to follow for others. Without the Halliburton loop hole, fracking would be illegal, because it violates the Clean Air and Clean Water Act. Please do the right thing and keep toxic, cancer forming fracking fluids out of our drinking water, and dangerous greenhouse methane gas out of our Air for all inhabitants of the planet, and for our future generations, since we are all connected to these essential necessities of life. We have so many better, safer, clean alternative energies, that are being used already. We can't have National Security without usable fresh air and water! And water isn't water anymore, once it's fracked. It's just becomes poisons that never goes away. Thank you for this opportunity to express my sincere concern for the Delawate Basin and all water and lives connected to it. I love and respect all wild places in Nature and the wonders it holds. Please allow future generations like my daughter's to remain a healthy place to live and to be as pristine as possible.