

Judy Books

I applaud the efforts made thus far to reduce the impact of fracking as it may occur within the Delaware Water Basin area. However, I feel the present laws do not go far enough. We need to prevent any fracking related activity in this region, regardless of where the fracking may be occurring directly. This should include also the extraction of water for transfer to other fracking locations.

The Delaware Water Basin provides an important source of recreation for residents and visitors alike. It also includes important habitats for birds and other wildlife. Please amend or create a new rule that will ban any type of fracking-related activities in this region. This is essential if we are to ensure the water remains free of harmful contaminants or would otherwise be disrupted so as to disturb sensitive wildlife habitat or the waters safe use by those looking to do passive recreation within the area.

Thank you for considering my comments on this important matter.