

Richard Cronin

Fracking IS entirely safe and has been utilized since the late 1940s. The Dimrock court case was a fiasco as the Dimrock family property has actually increased in value since fracking was initiated there. After issuing their summary report declaring fracking as safe, the EPA left some weasel words in the conclusions to say maybe, maybe, perhaps, future studies might, maybe, could, perhaps be shown to be a problem. Anyone who really studies this issue knows that alarmism about fracking is unscientific mumbo jumbo.

<https://www.forbes.com/sites/jeffmcmahon/2017/06/26/of-course-fracking-is-safe-stanford-prof-says/amp/>