

Carol Carson

Please do not drill, frack, or do other things that could jeopardize the Delaware River Water Basin. This area provides water for a large area of people, as well as recreation and refuge for animals. I believe we can do best for nature, by not invading it further, in particular here. We need to monitor the area for purity of water. In varying instances toxins have been found in water for us to drink, bathe in and general use. Many are from chemicals being used in industry. These are toxins that harm us and should be removed and prohibited. I feel that we urgently need to protect this area and so wish it be protected.