I believe that there should be no fracking allowed on the Delaware River Basin because it would ruin drinking water and the environment around the area. In the movie Gasland it showed how there can be contamination of water through fracking and ruin all the clean water in 4 different states. Also all the aquatic life in the basin could be introduced to unhealthy chemicals over all to them as well. In general I think there should be no fracking on this basin to help the people of the area
