

Greg Krawczyk

The Delaware River Basin is an environmental treasure. It supplies drinking water for 17 million people. There must be neither fracking nor any fracking waste dumping in this precious natural resource.