

Peter Eliscu

Fracking in its current horizontal-injection phase is verifiably poisonous. The people of the planet have been ravaged by the profit-makers once again. They removed the Clean Water Act restrictions in 2005 with the "Halliburton Loophole," sponsored by none other than the fossil fuel industry's darling, Dick Cheney. They've been poisoning us ever since.