

Arthur Satter

This area is the life blood of millions of people. It is not worth the risk of polluting drinking water which is getting scarcer in this world of ours. Fish, birds and numerous other animals rely on the watershed for their life and so do we. This water belongs to the people and not corporations that want to exploit it! Thank you.