

Pamela Martin

I am appalled that the public is being squeezed out of its say in what happens to its own land and waterways. These rule changes are ridiculous and sinister. Carving out a path for unilateral decisions by one person is dangerous to our democracy.