

Ruth Darlington

The Delaware River and its watershed are the lifeblood of our communities. I urge you to oppose any rule changes to the DRBC rulemaking that would limit public participation in DRBC decisions. We need and deserve to have a voice in decisions affecting our river and our communities. Public input is essential to good decision making that serves the people.