

Bev Halm-Levin

I am concerned about water quality, where fish viability and aquatic animals are put at risk. This includes trash and overuse of chemicals. I also see impacts from overuse by individuals recreating. Increased human use of water can impact animals of all sizes. Some water locations have become zoo like because of human use. There needs to be more monitoring to protect these resources.