

Jody Garland

There is no possible justification for polluting water. People, animals, food sources all depend on clean water. The fracking company, its employees and families all need clean water. I can't imagine allowing an industry to dump their chemicals in a lake. Why is this even an issue? They know they shouldn't do it. We know they shouldn't do it. So who thinks it's OK?