

Jared Keplinger

I personally find it abhorrent that you'd in any way shape or form allow or entertain the idea of allowing 190,000 barrels of produced water to be dumped into a fresh water supply. Saltwater of this sort is deadly and toxic in many many ways, just read Devon Energy's SDS they distribute. As an oilfield worker myself I am horrified that you could possibly allow BLATANT poisoning of a fresh water body, rather than as the norm having Aethon truck it or Pipeline it to a saltwater disposal. Do NOT allow this, please.