

Lisha Bui

The idea of dumping oilfield waste into one of the purest bodies of water not only sickens me but shames me to be a Wyoming resident, I live here because of the clean and pure natural resources. I dont care how much of a deficit we are in financially the cost of this to the environment can never be recovered, did we not learn this when the powers that be tried to mess with the water supply to the hotsprings.