

Candy Leggett

This is the most idiotic idea I have ever possibly heard in this state. Dumping contaminated water into our rivers and reservoirs is a disaster waiting to happen, and there may be no proof at the current moment that this will have negative impact but eventually dumping the waste WILL catch up and at that point there will likely be no recovering or it will cost millions to do so. Why not just protect this beautiful States most precious resources to begin with?