Dear BLM... It was maybe 6 years ago when I attended a BLM open house on this project and was simply dumbfounded as your representative told me with a straight face that the waste water they plan to dump into Badwater Creek would never reach the bighorn drainage. I thought maybe he either did not realize the Wind River (Boysen Res) down stream became the Big Horn River, or he was simply feeding me the fossil fuel/false science garbage that Wyoming has been living on for 70 years. Regardless, he was wrong. Badwater is a clear drainage channel witch I have personally seen flow clear into the reservoir on many occasions. Strike one.

Further the law requires the waste water be treated, contained or cleaned if possible. Your proposal does not address this. Strike two.

And finally you are required to study the down stream effects of any waste water. You dropped the ball there too. You out as far as I am concerned, and so is fossil fuel. I get that the execs and shareholders of this company don't live here and clearly don't care about our home. I see that my poor state is so addicted to the easy cash that selling out our children's legacy of clean air and water clearly is less important. But the day is here when this all stops. Therefore please accept my comment today as a resounding "ABSOLUTELY NO!". Take you big bad ideas some where else. Or better yet do some real human soul searching until you figure out why it is you actually think poisoning our water to harvest stuff that poisons our air is possibly a good idea.
