

Duane Schweigert

The discharge permit will forever pollute the waters of Boysen Dam and all downriver users. What kind of DEQ does Wyoming have that allows pollution from a fossil fuel development that is a short time benefit to a dying industry. Renewable energy is the future, but we are going to sacrifice more of our dwindling prairie habitat and clean waters so out of state companies can take their profits and leave the mess for us to take care of.