

George Punteney

it is either this this or windmills and solar farms. One we have had for decades and one we haven't. Most fossil fuel field sites are out or site and out of mind and one well can produce more energy that green energy can. Wind and solar farms are an eye sore, aren't very reliable and are not cost efficient (low roi). I would rather look out my door and see beauty, plants some trees to fix the carbon issue than to look at wind turbines.