

DEB FRENCH

It is really disheartening to know that you are willing to give up one of the few nonrenewable resources for money. we can't live without water and neither can you. We should support solar and wind resources that everyone can benefit from while preserving what's left on this Earth.