

chris scheibe

I do not support dumping this waste water into Boysen res. An injection well would be a more reasonable solution. When these companies gather all their profits up, they will load up their money and head back south, leaving us with a mess that can never be cleaned up.