

Robbie Ladner

With modern technology there is a way to get rid of the waste water without harming the environment. This would open the way to many new jobs and add to Wyoming's treasury . Please open this field up . Overcome the political differences.