

Amy Nagler

Protect our state's water with pre-and post- water quality testing, limits on all polluted discharges, and meaningful penalties for violations. Wyoming water is used for fishing, wildlife, drinking, irrigation, recreation, livestock and is VERY EXPENSIVE if not impossible to clean up after the fact. Wyoming extraction industries have a poor record when it comes to limiting their impacts to our lands and waters. Our state government and agencies need to hold them accountable!