

CAMPBELL CATTLE COMPANY

September 2, 2024

I, Kevin Campbell, am representing Campbell Cattle Company in this letter regarding the application by Evans Construction for the gravel mining permit. Campbell Cattle Co. has hayed, grazed, and maintained the fences on the adjoining Dell Fork Ranch property since 1994 when Paul Elwood bought the property from Pete Cameron. The property is now owned by Jon and Deborah Dawson. Campbell Cattle Co. has also hayed, grazed, and maintained the fences on the property owned by Montie and Sherry Evans which the application involves. There is no boundary fence between the two properties. I have known and been friends with Sherry Evans all my life. We were raised a few miles apart in this Hoback Basin.

It is imperative the spring creek running below the existing gravel pit be unaffected by the proposed project. The spring is located to the southwest, below the existing gravel pit owned by Evans and partly on Dell Fork Ranch property and sometimes right on the line between the two properties. The spring creek is fed by water that flows out of the hillside in several spots. It is the only source of water in this fenced area. It provides year long water for livestock, as well as irrigation water for the adjacent Dell Fork hay meadow in the summer. In the application we could not find any studies to ensure the volume and quality of water in the spring creek would be unaffected. We feel a thorough study should be done before application approval.

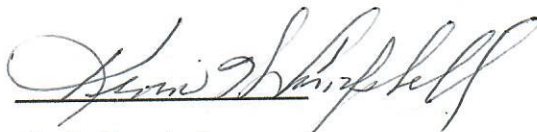

As I mentioned, there is no fence between the Dell Fork Ranch and Evan's properties. We have grazed cattle in the past on both properties and that has worked well. Because of this, if Evans Construction does not want the responsibility of health and safety of our cattle on their property, they will have to fence them out as Wyoming is a fence out state.

Also, the quality of life for the many residents living close by needs to be taken into consideration. The added sound pollution, air pollution, and traffic pollution will have a tremendous affect on those people. We are not included we do not live close by.

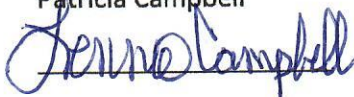

Thank you for your consideration.
