

Grace Anne Odom

The Buffalo River is a precious leisure resource for my community. In today's times, it is one of the few places where folks of opposite political and social opinions can put their differences aside and simply have a good time together. Don't ruin one of the Natural State's most beloved natural playground.