

Colby Bostick

The buffalo river is a natural delicacy that should have as little human imposition as possible, allowing for this permit will hands down be the biggest detriment this natural beauty has encountered.