

Sarah Darnell

The buffalo river has been a huge part of my life since childhood. Between camping on its banks to float trips, this beautiful watershed offers a plethora of magical experiences that showcase our state's majesty. To allow these farmers to destroy that beauty would be one of the greatest tragedies our "natural" state has ever known.