I believe that the allowance of a hog farm to operate in this area will negatively impact the ecosystem of the river and, by extension, will damage commerce in the region. As it is apparent that many politicians are not listening to their constituents on this issue let me try phrasing it a few different ways:

1. This here farm is a load of hogwarsh! An most of us that's up here working trying to bring home the bacon have beef with any ole swine what's gonna foul up our river! We knowed there something fishy goin on when y'all bypassed that there environmental impact statement!

2. Pig poop bad. Water good. Me like fishy. Fishy good. Fishy like water. Fishy no like pig poop!

In all seriousness; I don't really care which one of these forms speaks to you the most, I just want our voice to be heard.

Sincerely:

Stephen Fryar
