

Helen Maringer

The Buffalo river is a state treasure, I didn't realize how precious our waterways were until I moved away temporarily for University. When I returned, the first thing I wanted to do is jump in a river and float down the Buffalo. If the water had been contaminated, I would not have known. I hope for the numerous children who play in the Buffalo every summer, and the countless animals and plants that use that water for life, that the Buffalo remains as clean as it can be. Thank you for your time.