

Shelby Gonzales

The buffalo national river is not only a beautiful form of nature, but a resting place of so many happy memories for families! I grew up floating that river with my family and I hope to be able to do the same with my daughter. Please dont destroy future memories for generations to come!!!!