

Felicity Moore

I grew up in Arkansas. As an adult, I have lived in three other states. Whenever I describe my home state to people who have never been there, I speak of its natural beauty, which always includes the Buffalo. The Buffalo River is a Arkansas treasure, and we should do what we can to protect its natural beauty.