

Karla Burton

Wolves should be protected. Still very endangered. There is very little predation on cattle. Why are the interests of cattle ranchers held higher than protecting a species that was wiped almost completely out? We will never be in danger of having cattle on the endangered list. The wolves play an integral role in wildlife as a predator species. Once a species such as the wolf is wiped out on earth, there is no going back. We have to think long term. Please protect the wolves.