

Alicia Jennings

Before the WDFW works on a post-delisting plan (which may never happen), modify the current plan, as directed by Gov. Inslee. Focus on coexistence and education . Use current best science. Non-lethal methods are proven to work. Killing of wolves should NEVER be part of the policy. The policy of WDFW needs to reflect our values, right now the minority dictates how wildlife is managed. How is it that 1 rancher can manipulate the policy and is responsible for 80% of prescribed wolf kills? The policy must require protocol to be followed. Open hostility towards wolves and other wildlife should not be tolerated at all! We want to be the envy of other states for our standards, not looked at as wildlife enemies, as we are now.