

Brenda Frey

Creating a “post-recovery” plan for wolves at this time is premature, as Washington is still far from meeting the goals set forth in the current plan. The reason for the de listing is only to pamper to wolf haters and that is not a good enough reason to risk them from becoming extinct. Please use your position to make sure this does not happen. Thank you for taking the time to read this letter.
Sincerely, Brenda