

Rosie Wuebbels

The wolf population currently is being protected, unless you're a rancher that is!

I say keep this species protected and study some years to come. I would think the wolves increased numbers could help to level off the increasing elk herds in the Skagit valley and deer herds most anywhere in the valleys. Do NOT put them into an unprotected position.

I've spent a lot of time in the north cascades and pasaytan wilderness and I've yet to see or hear one. I'm still waiting for that thrill.

Sincerely,

Rosann Wuebbels

11134 O Ave

Anacortes, wa.98221