

Robert Beam

Hello,

I have hunted GMU 101 since 1994 and have watched as the ungulate herds have declined. First it was back to back severe winters, and then wolves moved in shortly after. The areas that I frequent are not affected by habitat loss, nor wild land fires. One alarming trend that has been noted is the lack of Ungulates, and the abundance of wolf sign.

Please find a way to balance the wolf population, with science, and not emotion.

Thank You

Robert Beam
Life Long Hunter of Washington State