

Mary Parham

The WDFW makes it very obvious that they care very little about what people think (including the governor), unless, of course, the name is McIrvin. The depth of shamelessness is so obvious and apparent with no attempt to cover it up. Wolves have as much right to live as cattle. Stop murdering the wolves and tell McIrvin to use methods to discourage the wolves instead of attract them so he can kill them!