

Loren Stermán

I encourage you to create a plan which strongly prioritizes wolves and wolf packs over cattle and ranchers. Wolves are a vital part of a strong ecosystem and much more important to the world (and especially public lands) than cows. Do not let the private interests of a few overloud blowhards drown out the solid science and sound public policy that say we need wolves. Criminalize wolf hunting!