

Philip Ratcliff

You trigger-happy rednecks are doing the bidding of a special interest, the livestock industry. That industry won't adequately protect its animals, and wants the state government to remove wolves instead. It's disgusting that taxpayer money is paying for wolf killing, at the behest of a small segment of the state's economy.