

Katrina Yurenka

This, despite the fact that the wolf population growth in the state has plateaued in recent years., murdering even more of them is still on the agenda.

You need to resolve the significant problems associated with your current wolf-killing regime, and that considering "post-delisting" management (i.e. hunting) is wildly inappropriate.