

Linda Thompsen

It is very important to sustain the top predators in the food chain. As we all know biological life goes in a circle and wolves are part of that circle. If wolves kill domesticated animals one suggestion is to reimburse ranchers for their losses. It is my belief that wolves cull more ailing and elderly wild animals than cattle or sheep.