The extermination of the gray wolf population absolutely sickens me. Each and every time I read a posting in the newspaper I feel, literally, overwhelmed and sad, very sad.

There must be another way!

Would it not be less costly to reimburse the farmers and ranchers for their cattle?

How much public money does it take to hire trackers and snipers and helicopters?

Killing obstacles to progress (or profit) is the American way. Just ask the Native Americans. Decimating the wolves is not the solution.

Please let me know if this email will be included in the public commentary.

Thank you.
