

john zey

Rather than extirpating packs or individuals, why not trap and disperse to other areas. The Olympics could use a predator to balance other predators and herbivores