

Hi! The year needs to it's 11/8/19 and Earth has always ignored our calendars; even more so now as our ancient climatic weather patterns collapse into chaos
while the equilibrium of life cycles slide and reflect the madness of us, who are largely responsible for it. An even sadder and more fearful phenomena occur Day, Jim is running out! Or is it too late?
We'll see how it goes.

On 10/14 I composed a letter that I submitted to regional letters to the editor columns. It was published but edited in such a way that it changed my message to the level that was confusing.
So I copied it + pasted it on Bulletin boards + mailings.
It largely covers my views + I have included a copy.

Currently I am entirely + duplex opposed to any killing of any. Issues include Capital, and Congress, who are even more corrupted and greedy and other wild ideas + dilemmas support full protection of these are other things and
these must be brought back, employed, every year.

Fair is an urgent issue.

An emergency. A disaster. ①

It's the People, those who have lands + the lives and the general population that keep small numbers of animals, consciously learning from international or unproven from hunting, buying birds over They all need a program education! It's the duty of such folks not to protect their animals from the birds, ~~but~~
but the birds from their animals.
If they don't then they should be held accountable for buying birds creates the prey on their animals. ~~not the birds~~
The birds are not responsible.
Big scale education

compaign are essential.

The following organizations are up to the information + tools aimed at solving problems associated with the issue.

They also offer programs including funds, tools,
training + other resources to assist in education for People + their animals.

Hi. Autumn dances softly with Summer to the Music of the Spheres, here. I hope the dancing is beautiful and wonderful for you also, where you are. When People of Europe first came here not only were there already People living here for thousands of years, but the natural world gave everything the People needed to be alive and probably happy. The natural world gave these same things to ~~them~~ the newcomers also. There was enough for many to share. Instead of learning to live in relative peace, thoughtfully accepting the gifts of nature, including those People already here, they cut, burned and uprooted the Forests and Prairies, broke the Mountains apart to tear out metals, some of which, like Gold, were useless for any practical purpose, and Coal, mostly to build machines to hasten and make more easy the destruction, and to deeply poison the Land, Air, and Water. They, some of them, killed everything heedlessly, the Plant-life, the Animals, Fish, the original Human inhabitants.

They were't anymore good or bad than any of us, on the average, are now. They were just People, carrying out the learned life-styles of their homelands, where the destruction and killing was long, well advanced. A kind of collective madness, fueled by alcohol and phenomenal ignorance, and fear.

As the ruination and population increased, exponentially, some folks began to resist the ways of destruction and killing. But the destruction and killing ways ~~finally~~ finally spread across the whole Planet, dominating all Human societies, threatening the very existence of Life-on-Earth. The very eco-system of Terra became at stake.

As things became more desperate for more and more People, of an ever increasing population, all People, and the Life-~~sustaining~~ sustaining eco-system, resistance grew, and became a great progress in efforts to develop a sustainable environment for Humans and the planetary web of Life.

Time will tell whether enough gets done to pull us back from the the brink of cataclysmic extinction.

We'll see how it goes.

One of the few key elements necessary in learning how to live in a sustainable world, and helping the eco-system recover and heal is the careful protection of the remains of the natural environment, and it's Life-sustaining process".

Another equally important key is the attempts to restore damaged places, parts. This involves re-introduction of species of Wildlife, Flora and Fauna alike, and attempts to restore places that sustain those species. Large and small scale, everyplace on Earth, including our cities, to what degrees are realistic, and vital to success.

Another key is that these things must take into account the present reality of Human needs and energy and supply systems of immediate survival. You know, a dignified, honorable, just, healthy and happy enough Life for us Humans, here, on spaceship Earth.

The Earth will never again be as it was 200 or 400 years ago. Population pressures alone assure us of that. But, unless we are to court extinction to the last straw, the natural eco-system must be restored and sustained.

The re-introduction of the Wolf, and recovery of the Wolf's living environment are essential to the recovery of our global environment.

Any Wild species may be considered 'indicator species', meaning if they are missing from their habitat something is wrong with that habitat, ecologically. They are all 'Canaries in the Coal mine.'

Short of ~~having~~ livestock, or logging, mining and such, all together, it's up to the industries to carry on their activities in ways that do not ~~destroy~~ destroy the eco-system. ~~It's~~ It's not our duty to guard the Sheep and cows from Wolves. It is our duty to protect the Wolves from the herds, Shepherds with the herds, guard Dogs and guard Lammas, temporary electric fencing, and importantly, re-training of herds People can at least achieve a satisfactory medium, in time, for all concerned.

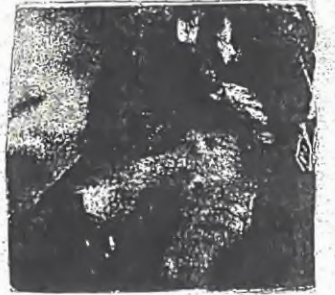

Yes, I Love Wolves and I'm on their side. I also Love Cows and Sheep and the other creatures we share Earth with. I also Love People.

We all have to Live together.

"There are no passengers on spaceship Earth. We are all crew members."
